THUGS TO FIGHT STATE SOLDIERS

100 Men, Fresh From Muscatine Riot, Due in Rock Island.

CITY FACES REAL CRISIS

Soldiers Guard Railroad Yards to Prevent Landing of Horde—Sheriff Searches Town for Hidden Explosives—Mayor Explains.

Rock Island, March 29.—One hundred thugs, including four professional dynamiters, are on their way to Rock Island, and instead of facing trouble from a turbulent faction of its own citizens, the city is now endangered by the importing of desperate characters.

The one hundred men left Muscatine, Ia., in groups, and are expected to arrive in Rock Island today. They are a part of the element that started a recent riot in Muscatine, committing assaults, killing two policemen and attempting to dynamite buildings. The Muscatine situation, like that of Rock Island, was placed in the hands of state troops, and the floating population are being driven out. The trouble started from a strike in the button factories.

Guards have been doubled in all the railroad yards around Rock Island, and every effort is being made to prevent the men from alighting from the trains. Dynamite is stored in Rock Island, according to reliable reports received by Sheriff O. L. Bruner, and under the direct orders of Brigadier General Kittleson an active search is being conducted for the cache.

City Faces Real Crisis.
The city faces three important developments. They are: Arrival of one hundred desperate men, fresh from the scene of the riot in Muscatine; the ineffectual death of Frank H. Kellogg, which has been called by a coroner's jury; the impaneling of a special grand jury before Judge F. D. Ramsey in the county courthouse.

Thirty men have been summoned to appear before the grand jury, among them Harry McCaskrin, Republican candidate for state's attorney, and Philip H. Wells, a justice of the peace. Both these men spoke on the public square Tuesday night before the riot started.

Mayor Schriver held a conference with three newspaper men, and went into details over the beating that he administered to John Looney, proprietor of the Rock Island News, on Saturday night. The mayor was understood to say at this conference that he would kill Looney when the latter got out of the hospital, and that he would be given a vote of thanks by the people for doing it. He was also understood to say that he did not care if he went to the gallows for it, and that he would be satisfied if his action would help Rock Island.

Mayor Dictates Interview.
Reports of this interview were sent out over the wires by newspaper men, and the substance of the mayor's conversation by the time it traveled from tongue to tongue became more distorted. Late at night the mayor dictated the following statement:

"What I meant to convey to the three reporters who visited my office, in explaining the trouble between Mr. Looney and myself and in detailing the conversation I had with him after the affair, was at that time I informed him, in the excitement, that if he continued to write me up in his paper in the scurrilous, scandalous and libelous manner in which he had referred to me in his last issue that I would shoot him.

John Looney, who is in a painful although not dangerous condition at St. Anthony's hospital, when told that the mayor was determined that no more vicious articles should appear in the News, of which Mr. Looney is editor, said:

Looney's Paper to Issue Saturday.
"The policy of my paper will not change in its fight for upright city government. If it becomes my duty to expose a public official, I will do so, regardless of any personal threats. We will issue on Saturday, as usual."

Co. G Is Active.

Company G of Dixon is one of the most active companies on the scene and they are making an excellent showing.

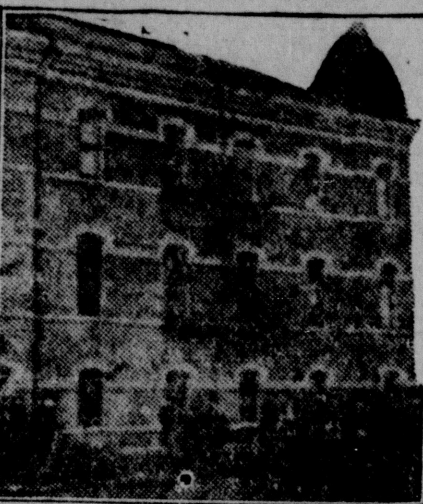

Raid Houses.

Last night the police raided disorderly houses and 45 persons, 27 of them women, were arrested. The trials are taking place this morning behind closed doors.

Coroner's Inquest On.

The coroner's inquest is being held today. A company of militia is guarding the place in which the inquest is being held.

Swingle Died.
Raymond Swingle, the boy who was shot by the police when they fired into the crowd on the first night, died yesterday afternoon at the hospital.

Militia Will Stay Some Time.
Rock Island, Mich. 29, 2:45 p. m.—Everything is quiet here this afternoon. The men and women taken in the raid of the red light district last night were put on outgoing trains by companies of militia, and warned to stay out of the city. This raid is part of Mayor Schriver's plan to clean the city.

Grand Jury Ready.
The grand jury has been sworn in and is ready to take up its work. The inquest is going on this afternoon.

It is predicted here that the militia men will be kept on duty for some time to come, probably until after the primaries, and this is taken to mean that those in charge are expecting trouble.

DELINQUENTS HAVE ONE MONTH'S GRACE

AFTER TOMORROW DIXON DELINQUENTS MUST PAY AT COURT HOUSE.

County Treasurer F. C. Vaughan today announced that after tomorrow all taxes for Dixon township, as well as the other townships, will have to be paid at the county treasurer's office, as when the Dixon books are turned in tomorrow night all of the town collectors will be through. For one month, until May 1, no penalty will be charged delinquents, but after that time the legal penalties must be added, and tardy tax payers will do well to settle before that time. Mr. Vaughan has arranged to have the delinquent tax books of Amboy, Lee Center, May and East Grove townships at the First National bank in Amboy after Monday, an accommodation which will doubtless be appreciated by the people of those sections.

TOMORROW LAST SPECIAL ASSESSMENT TAX DAY

Tomorrow will be the last day for the payment of special assessments due the city of Dixon and City Clerk Blake Grover is anticipating a busy day because of this fact. The delinquent list will be turned in to County Treasurer Frank C. Vaughan Monday morning, as is required by law.

THIRTEEN DIVORCE CASES THIS TERM

THE UNLUCKY NUMBER OF UNLUCKY MARRIAGES.

HARDEN SUES FOR $10,000

Sues C. & N. W. for Death of Boy—Three Big Trespass Cases Up—Criminal Docket Is Quite Clear This Term.

Through his attorney, Harry Edwards, W. W. Harden of Nelson township, father of the late Walter Harden, and administrator of the estate, today filed suit in the circuit court of Lee county asking $10,000 damages for the death of the young man, who was killed at the McRoberts crossing west of this city when, in a blinding snow storm the buggy in which he was riding was struck by the American Express, westbound.

The case was the third big trespass case filed for this term, and brought the total of law cases filed up to 21. Today is the last day for service and at 2 p. m. 47 new cases had been filed, with which number it is believed the limit has been reached, as no intended cases, as far as is known, are likely to be filed before Circuit Clerk McMahan's office is closed this afternoon.

Thirteen Want Divorces.

Of the cases 21 are law and 26 are chancery suits. Of the chancery cases, thirteen are for divorce, as follows:

Katherine Kraemer vs. Philip Kraemer.

Minnie M. Adams vs. Ira Adams.

Clara Shaw vs. Clarence Shaw.

John Absher vs. Ida Absher.

Frank G. Unger vs. Maude Unger.

Alida Gum vs. Geo. F. Gum.

Luella Hammond vs. Daniel Hammond.

Calvin Meese vs. Clara Meese.

Anna Antonius vs. Mike Antonius.

Josephine O'Hare vs. Dennis O'Hare.

Charles Krabenbuhl vs. Dessie Krabenbuhl.

Ella Kreiter vs. Albert Kreiter.

Emanuel Muntean vs. Mabel Muntean.

Three Trespass Cases.

Three big trespass cases have been filed, the amount sued for in each case being $10,000. They are:

Stowers Dunbar, administrator of the estate of Cadet Dunbar, vs. Chicago & Northwestern Railroad company.

Charles Shaeffer vs. Rock River Assembly of Lutherans.

W. W. Harden, administrator of the estate of Walter R. Harden, vs. C. & N. W. Ry. Co.

Criminal Docket Clear.

States Attorney Harry Edwards announces that the criminal side of the docket will be very light this term from all indications. The criminal cases were all cleaned up at the last term, the result being a clean docket. But two cases have been bound over to the grand jury in the interim, both being larceny cases, the alleged guilty parties being Steve Benjamin of this city and Herbert Utley of Lee Center.

PRIMARY BILLS GO TO THIRD READING

REPUBLICANS IN HOUSE DEFEATED ATTEMPTS OF DEMOCRATS TO KILL PREFERENTIAL PRIMARY BILL.

CHARGES PLOT TO DEFEAT BILL

Pendergast Said Lorimer, Sullivan, Busse, Hearst and Mayor Harrison Are Banded Together to Beat Bill—House Meets at 10 Tomorrow to Try to Pass Bill.

Springfield, Mich. 29.—Special to Telegraph.—The house this morning defeated the attempts of democratic members to kill the senate preferential primary election bill by striking out the enacting clause, as well as the attempt of the democrats to amend the bill, and then advanced both it and Representative Chipfield's presidential primary election bill to third reading and adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow, when the bills will come up for passage. It is considered doubtful if either bill will pass. There was an acrimonious debate over whether the house should adjourn until 10 a. m. tomorrow or until 12:05 o'clock tonight. Hiram T. Gilbert, democrat of Chicago, opened the ball this morning by moving to strike out the enacting clause from the senate bill, declaring that it applied to a single election and not a general election, and was therefore in conflict with the supreme court decisions. His motion was tabled by a vote of 86 to 8.

D. D. Donahue of Bloomington, democrat, moved to amend by providing for election of presidential delegates by congressional districts. The amendment was tabled by a vote of 67 to 34. All the negative votes were democratic.

John M. Rapp of Fairfield, democrat, offered an amendment inserting the Oregon style of electing U. S. senators.

This amendment was tabled, 68 to 33, and both bills were then advanced to third reading.

Wm. P. Holladay of Danville, republican, moved to adjourn until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Homer J. Tice of Greenville, republican, moved to amend by making the hour 12:05 o'clock tomorrow morning. This brought an acrimonious debate in which Richard Pendergast of Winfield charged that Lorimer, Roger Sullivan, Fred Busse, W. R. Hearst and Mayor Harrison of Chicago were banded together to beat the bill. Tice after saying he believed there would be more members here at midnight to pass the bill than there would be tomorrow at 10 a. m. withdrew his motion to adjourn until 12:05 tomorrow morning, and the motion to adjourn until 10 a. m. tomorrow was adopted and the house adjourned.

BRANDT NOT A BURGLAR

Special Grand Jury Says Indictment Should Be for Larceny.

New York, March 29.—The grand jury investigating the case of Folke E. Brandt, the former valet of Mortimer L. Schiff, handed up a presentment in which it said that Brandt should have been indicted for grand larceny and not for burglary in the first degree. The court refused to accept such a finding and ordered the jury to retire to reconsider. It was the unanimous vote of the jury that a case of conspiracy had not been made out against Mr. Schiff and Howard Gans, his personal attorney, and the time Brandt was sentenced to thirty years' imprisonment.

SENATOR DAVIS WINNER

Late Returns Offset Opponent's Majority of Wednesday Night.

Memphis, Tenn. March 29.—Returns from 74 of the 75 Arkansas counties, 69 complete, give Senator Jeff Davis 57,020 votes in the Democratic primary and his opponent, S. Brundage, 50,250. Brundage's apparent lead was overcome when the country districts were heard from. Senator Davis had the hardest fight of his career. Robinson's majority over Donaghey for governor will reach 45,000. Nomination is equivalent to election.

Lives 7 Years With Broken Back.

Pittsburg, March 29.—After lying on a hospital cot for seven years with a broken back, the result of a railroad accident at Braddock, Pa., Harry Day, aged thirty-three, died here.

SUIT DELAYS BALLOT PRINTING

COUNTY CLERKS ARE AWAITING THE DECISION FROM SPRINGFIELD.

CASE WAS STARTED YESTERDAY

Hearst Forces Would Mandamus County Clerks to Strike Sullivan Candidates' Names From List—Twenty-Three Clerks Involved.

County Clerk W. C. Thompson will refrain from having the primary ballots printed until a decision is reached in the case which was started in the Sangamon county circuit court at Springfield yesterday by the Hearst forces, in which suit the Hearst candidates are endeavoring to mandamus the county clerks of the 11th, 12th, 13th and 21st districts to strike the names of the Sullivan candidates for democratic state committeemen off the tickets.

However, Mr. Thompson has had the copy for the ballots in the hands of the printers for some time, and they have been set up ready to print at a moment's notice.

Case Started Yesterday.

The case was called at Springfield yesterday and J. E. Hogan of Taylorville attorney for the Sullivan candidates, moved to have the cases dismissed, on the grounds that none of the county clerks who were made defendants in the case reside in Sangamon county, and that therefore the case should have been started in one of the four districts involved. The decision of the court is being anxiously awaited by the 23 county clerks who were ordered to appear.

4 MORE VOTES FOR TAFT

Making 18 Indiana Votes—Roosevelt Gets Eight Hoosier Delegates.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 29.—Four Taft delegates to the Republican national convention at Chicago were chosen in Indiana, making 18 delegates elected so far who will support the president for nomination. The Roosevelt men obtained six delegates, two each in the Sixth, Eighth and Ninth districts, making eight in all, including the Eleventh district delegates chosen Monday. The districts won by the Taft forces were the Second and Tenth. Two more districts are to choose delegates, the Thirteenth, April 2, and the Twelfth, on April 3.

Jackson, Miss., March 29.—Four delegates at large to the national Republican convention were named here both by Taft supporters and by adherents of Colonel Roosevelt. The Taft supporters controlled the state convention and the Roosevelt supporters convened on another floor of the same building. Seven of the state's eight districts have instructed delegates for Taft.

GORGE BREAKS AT ROCKFORD.

A huge ice gorge which has been forming at Rockford for several days and which assumed serious proportions Wednesday was broken up yesterday by the use of dynamite, and the river there is now practically clear of ice.

MAKES SECOND 'KEYNOTE' TALK

Defends the Right of the People to Rule—Says Americans Are Fully Capable of Self-Control—Appeals to the Individual.

St. Louis, Mo., March 29.—Reports that Col. Theodore Roosevelt had intimated that he would bolt from his party in case he fails of nomination brought forth a denial from Mr. Roosevelt here.

"Any statement like that is untrue," he said. "Any time I have anything to say on that subject I will say it myself, and anything purporting to come from me unless I say it myself is a fake."

Before an audience that crowded the First Regiment Armory to its limits while thousands were unable to gain admittance, Colonel Roosevelt made his second "Keynote" speech here.

His address, in part, follows:

When I say that I believe not only in the right of the people to rule, but in their duty to rule themselves and to refuse to submit to being ruled by others, I am not using a figure of speech, I am speaking of a vital issue which fundamentally affects our whole American life. I not merely admit but insist that in all government and especially in popular government there must be control; and furthermore that if control does not come from within it must come from without.

Americans Have Self Control.

There are people in the world which have proved by their lamentable experiences that they are not capable of this self-control; but I contend that the American people most emphatically are capable of it. I hold that in the long run, taken as a whole, our people can and will govern themselves a great deal better than any small set of men can govern them. The attempt has recently been made to improve on Abraham Lincoln's statement that "this is a government of the people, for the people, by the people." As a substitute therefore it is proposed that this government shall hereafter be a government of the people, for the people, by a representative part of the people.

It is always a dangerous matter to try to improve on Lincoln when we deal with the rights and duties of the people, and this particular attempt at improvement is not a happy one. In substance it of course means nothing except that this is to be a government of the whole people by a part of the people. We have had such a government in various parts of this Union from time to time, and stripped of verbiage it simply means a government of the people by the bosses, a government of the whole people against instead of for the interest of the whole people by a part of the people which does the bidding of the holders of political and financial privilege.

Appeals to Individual.

Now I want each of you to consider this governmental proposition from his own individual standpoint. Our contention is that just as each individual wishes, and ought to wish, to rule his own life for himself, so that all individuals taken together; that is, the people, must wish themselves to rule their collective life and not be ruled by others. Each of us here wants to lead his own life himself. Is not that true of each of you? It certainly is true of me, and if I found it was not true of any of my sons, I would feel like disinheriting them.

Explains Free Government.

Well, it is just the same way about the people as a whole. All of us, you and I, all of us together, want to rule ourselves, and we don't wish to have any body of outsiders rule us. That is what free government means. If people cannot rule themselves, then they are not fit for free government, and all talk about democracy is a sham. I do not for a moment mean that we, the people, will not occasionally make mistakes, but, after all, they will be our mistakes, and not somebody else's, and we can cure them ourselves.

Will Fight Tyranny.

Whenever there is tyranny by the majority I shall certainly fight it. But the tyrannies from which we have been suffering in this country have, ninety-nine times out of a hundred, been tyrannies by a minority, that is, tyranny by privilege. Sometimes, as in the case of some public utility franchise or other bit of grabbing by a few what belongs to the many, the tyranny is primarily commercial; at other times, it is primarily political. This, for instance, is true just at the present day in those states where the people have been denied the right to vote at primaries in order to express their preferences for president.

Refreshments were served which were much enjoyed and the memory of the happy afternoon spent at the home of Mrs. Edous will long remain with those present.

Seventy-Ninth Birthday.

Grandpa Bollman, who resides with his daughter, Mrs. Clarence Wilson, 1102 West Third street, and whose life is linked with the early days of Lee county, on Wednesday celebrated his 79th birthday anniversary.

In honor of the occasion nearly 40 relatives gathered at his home and tendered him a surprise and assisted him in celebrating the day. At noon a bounteous dinner, prepared by Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. D. C. Harden and Mrs. Henry Bollman, was served.

After dinner the guests repaired to the parlor, where a handsome rocking chair was presented to the host as a remembrance of the event.

Henry Bollman was born in Prussia, Germany, March 27, 1833. Amid the quiet scenes of his birthplace our subject grew apace and in the local school conned his lessons diligently, thus securing a good practical education, and he also secured a useful training in agriculture on his father's farm.

He was but 15 years old when he determined to follow his brother, Frederick, who had come to this country ten years before and, with a courageous spirit and the high hopes of youth he set out on the long voyage on the good ship Baltimore from which he disembarked six weeks later in the city of that name in the state of Maryland. From there he made his way to Pennsylvania, and upon his arrival in Somerset county, found he had but little money left. However, he was not daunted, as long as he could find employment, and he worked for different people until he obtained a good start in life. He then came to Illinois, where he invested his earnings in a farm in Nelson township where he became prosperous. Seven years ago, March 21, he left the farm and came to live with his daughter in this city.

Among those present were his children and their families, Mrs. F. H. Manning of Des Moines, Ia.; Mrs. D. C. Harden, Henry Bollman Jr., of Nelson; Mrs. Clarence Wilson of Dixon and Wm. Bollman of Prophetstown. One daughter, Mrs. May Hax, of Van Wert, Ia., was unable to be here.

The other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Bollman and family, Mrs. Mary Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rhodes and baby, Dorothy; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bollman, Mrs. Lulu Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pitcher, Mrs. Nellie Duffy and son Hugh, Mrs. Emma Grant, Mrs. Saville Hartman of Sterling, Misses Myrtle and Nellie Shaffer and Earl Shaffer.

The guests departed late in the afternoon wishing Grandpa many such happy birthdays.

Palmyra Aid Society.

The Palmyra Ladies' Mutual Aid society met Wednesday with Mrs. Joseph Gooch, 35 being present. The condition of the roads made "getting there" a problem to most of them.

No sooner had they arrived than they were busy. At noon a delicious scramble dinner was enjoyed by all. Election of officers was to have taken place, but it was decided by an amendment to the by-laws, to elect officers but once a year, Sept. 1, so the present officers hold over until that time.

Miss Altman of Dixon was introduced by the president, Mrs. Pearl, and presented to the society a plan by which the community might enjoy a series of high class entertainments such as given by the Dixon Y. M. C. A. every winter, at the Sugar Grove church next winter. Her presentation of this matter met with hearty approval and it was decided to have the course of entertainments. This is the first rural community to venture along these lines and there seems to be no doubt but it will meet with success, inasmuch as it gives the people of that place a chance to take advantage of high class entertainments at home, that they otherwise could not attend. Our young people who would go to Dixon for this class of entertainment certainly will appreciate it much more at home. The object is not for gain, but to give the people a chance to enjoy at no more expense what they would have to go to Dixon or elsewhere to get. A committee of three was appointed to take the matter in charge and make necessary arrangements.

One new member was added to our society, making the total membership 58.

The next meeting will be held on April 10th, with Mrs. Harvey Senneff.

Dancing School.

At the dancing school at Rosbrook hall this evening, Mrs. Ruth Collins will give another lesson on the schottische. She teaches it by diagram, very simply and intelligently. This is the dance so popular with a few of the good dancers of Dixon, and was taught many years ago by Prof. Hovey, and is a very graceful dance. Mrs. Collins will also give a lesson on the Short Boston, which is the popular dance in vogue outside of Dixon. She will also give the beginners the lesson on the waltz and two step, as usual.

There was a large attendance last Friday and no doubt the same interest will be shown for the remaining nine lessons. Mrs. Collins brings her own accompanist, Miss Evans, whom she has trained especially for her teaching, which makes it easier for both pupils and teacher.

The children's classes are very interesting and about 50 children are in attendance every Saturday. A great deal of attention is paid to decorum and courtesy and it is excellent training. For amusement she gives them cotillion figures and Mrs. Blake and Miss Ingraham are planning a cotillion for the children at the end of the series of lessons.

The hours for the children's dancing classes will be as usual this week.

TO GIVE PLAY TONIGHT.

"Charlie's Aunt," to be given this evening at the North Side school by the students, promises to be a most entertaining production, and from the sale of tickets the hall will be filled.

A Peoria avenue young lady advises this col. that hereafter she is not going to attend any more evening affairs as it makes her so late getting to bed after she follows all the instructions in the beauty hints.

We "fane" would tell but dare not, the name of the young lady who hides her rubbers under the sidewalk leading to an empty house on Ottawa avenue when she comes down town, thus following parental instructions that she wear them, and her own set opinion against them.

However, the above is not written to cause any young man to spot every empty house on that thoroughfare and pipe it until the fair young lady shows up for her kicks.

Hay, Listen!

A local feed store man had some trouble yesterday determining just who he was going to send an order to, and his patience was practically exhausted by the interview. The telephone rang and an order for two bales of hay came from the party at the other end who, however, had failed to give his name. "Two bales of hay," replied the feed seller. "All right, but who is this for?" "Why, it's for my horse, you old fool," came the answer over the wire. "You didn't think I was going to eat it myself, did you?"

Goose Hollow Letter.

Deacon Phil Hybarger was in Dixon Saturday night and he witnessed the actual photographs of saloon keepers thrown on a bed sheet hung on the stage in the opy house. Phil says if the Dixon saloon keepers look like that he's going to vote 'em out of business, by heck. He argues that liquor should not be sold in open saloons anyway, where it may tempt the traveling men, who are so innocent. He is going to keep his booze in the cellar, where it is handier.

PRINCESS THEATRE.

The pictures for this evening are, A Message From Niagara, a dramatic headliner, showing the world's greatest cataract; Called Back, a comedy; Tweedledum, and A Helping Hand, an interesting and clever drama.

Opera House, Saturday and Sunday, March 30-31.

The arraignment of guilty souls before the infernal judge, the heat stirring scenes on the banks of the River Acheron are rendered with dramatic power and intensity of which height of moving picture realism, however, is reached when the two poets on a journey through hell arrive at the gray and withered cliffs of the Stygian swamps where the victims are confined. The system of signals by which the infernal powers send news of the coming and passing of guilty souls through the various regions, so graphically described by Dante, is shown with overwhelming and thrilling realism in the picture. The great dramatic moment in Dante's poem comes with the arrival of the poet at the gates of the city of Dis. The pictures here follow each other in rapid succession, reaching a most powerful climax when Virgil tempts you, or you belch gas, or seems filled with despair and begins to retrace his steps. The makers of the film have done full justice to this most exacting portion of the poem and the spectator finds himself thrilled and awed in turn.

FAMILY THEATRE.

Two big feature pictures at the Family theatre, Jack and the Bean Stalk on Saturday afternoon, and Billy's Stratagem on Saturday night. See the special feature pictures at the Family theatre on Saturday afternoon and night.

FAMILY THEATRE

The bill at the Family theatre for the last half of the week is a very pleasing one and one that will please large crowds the balance of the week.

The Gardner Family, five in number, present an excellent act consisting of impersonations of Buster, Mary Jane, Tige, etc., also singing and dancing numbers. The act is splendidly staged and the gowns worn by the young ladies are beautiful. The act has an air of refinement that is pleasing.

Yackley & Bunnell are very amusing in a musical act. They are old time minstrel men and the sketch has a snap to it that entertains from start to finish. Special feature pictures of Jack and the Bean Stalk will be shown Saturday afternoon, and Billy's Stratagem Saturday evening.

STOMACH DISTRESS IS ENDED FOREVER

NO DYSPEPSIA, HEARTBURN, GAS OR INDIGESTION IN FIVE MINUTES

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—or may be you call it indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Food Fermentation and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness of the face, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness.

If your appetite is fickle and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas, or you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapypsin.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN FRANCHISE DISCUSSION.

Dixon, Mich. 28, 1912.
Editor Evening Telegraph:
Referring to the 48-year franchise asked for by Mr. Monroe for his company. The people of Dixon should have ample time to discuss this matter. In the first place, the present company has too good a thing to sell out without a good profit, and if the option runs out, no doubt, it can be renewed, and even if it cannot I do not think the present generation is prepared to do anything that would reflect on them by the next generation.

As regards the cost of gas. There is no better investment than gas at $1.00, but this company is peculiarly situated with regard to the cost of gas, as by them reducing the cost of gas, as by them reducing the cost of electric light, as people will use what costs the least. The new company is looking after a safe investment and a good handsome profit on the sale of their bonds.

In regards to the state regulating prices. That is simply borrowed powder, in the meantime. It is time to meet that when it takes place. Give the citizens time. Let them employ good legal talent to guide them. It will pay.

SPECIAL SERVICES

ARE ENJOYED

Another good audience was present last evening at the special services now being held at St. Paul's Lutheran church. Rev. M. N. Clark delivered a very impressive sermon upon the incident after the Lord's resurrection where the women were to go and tell his disciples and Peter. Some suggestive reasons were given why Peter should thus be singled out from the other disciples and named. The lessons given were very natural and encouraging. The solicitude for the fallen or erring one was vividly portrayed. Secretary Bailey of the Y. M. C. A., will preach this evening.

Come and hear him.

CHAPTER XII.

The Needle in the Haystack.

The almost-married couple sat long in mutual terror and a common paralysis of ingenuity. Marjorie, for lack of anything better to do, was absent-mindedly twisting Snoozleums' ears, while he, that pocket abridgment of a dog, in a well meaning effort to divert her from her evident grief, made a great pretense of ferocity, growling and threatening to bite her fingers off. The new ring attracted his special jealousy. He was growing discouraged at the ill-success of his impersonation of a wolf, and dejected at being so crassly ignored, when he suddenly became, in his turn, a center of interest.

Marjorie was awakened from her trance of inanition by the porter's voice. His plantation voice was ordinarily as thick and sweet as his own New Orleans sorghum, but now it had a bitterness that curdled the blood:

"Scuse me, but how did you-all git that theah dog in this heah cah?"

"Snoozleums is always with me," said Marjorie briskly, as if that settled it, and turned for confirmation to the dog himself, "aren't you, Snoozleums?"

"Well," the porter drawled, trying to be gracious with his great power, "the rules don't 'low no live stock in the slep'in' cars, 'ceptin' humans."

Marjorie rewarded his condescension with a blunt: "Snoozleums is more human than you are."

"I p'sume he is," the porter admitted, "but he can't make up berths. Anyway, the rules says dogs goes with the baggage."

Marjorie swept rules aside with a defiant: "I don't care. I won't be separated from my Snoozleums."

She looked to Mallory for support, but he was too sorely troubled with greater anxieties to be capable of any action.

The porter tried persuasion: "You betta lemme take him, the conducta is wuss'n' what I am. He 'thowed a couple of dogs out the window trip befo' last."

"The brute!"

"Oh, yassum, he is a regulah brute. He just loves to hear 'm splosh when they light."

Noting the shiver that shook the girl, the porter offered a bit of consolation:

"Better lemme have the pore little thing up in the baggage cah. He'll be in charge of a lovely baggage-smasher."

"Are you sure he's a nice man?"

"Oh, yassum, he's death on trunks, but he's a natural born angel to dogs."

"Well, if I must, I must," she sobbed. "Poor little Snoozleums! Can he come back and see me tomorrow?"

Marjorie's tears were splashing on the puzzled dog, who nestled close, with a forboding of disaster.

"I reckon p'haps you'd better visit him."

"Poor dear little Snoozleums—good night, my little darling. Poor little child—it's the first night he's slept all by his 'tittle lonesome, and—"

The porter was growing desperate. He clasped his hands together impatiently and urged: "I think I hear that conducta comin'."

The ruse succeeded. Marjorie fairly forced the dog on him. "Quick—hide him—hurry!" she gasped, and sank on the seat completely crushed. "I'll be so lonesome without Snoozleums."

Mallory felt called upon to remind her of his presence. "I—I'm here, Marjorie." She looked at him just once—at him, the source of all her troubles—buried her head in her arms, and resumed her grief. Mallory stared at her helplessly, then rose

"How can you tell?"

"Well, if a grown man offers me a half-fare ticket, I guess that's a pretty good sign, ain't it?"

Mallory guessed that it was, and turned back, hopeless and helpless.

WEST BROOKLYN NEWS

West Brooklyn, Ill., Mar 27. '12
Editor West Brooklyn News:
West Brooklyn, Illinois.
Dear Sir:

I ask space in your valuable paper to thus enable me to set before the voters of Brooklyn township a few facts concerning the attitude of some of your officials in regard to conducting the business of the township along economical lines. While many of you tax payers have complained about the excessive high taxes which have prevailed during recent years, none I hope are so ignorant as to charge me with being in any way responsible for high taxes. I have endeavored to collect the taxes as levied against you by your supervisor and other taxing bodies and while your township tax as well as your road and bridge taxes have been the highest in recent years in the history of Brooklyn township, it has been the means of making the collector's commission somewhat larger than in former years. Some time ago, your supervisor, John W. Banks, while in his office advised me that the board of town auditors by and with the power and authority vested in them by law, had decided to reduce the compensation received by the tax collector and place the same on a salary basis. The law in this case provides that the board of town auditors shall fix the compensation at any per cent not exceeding two per cent of the amount collected I was given to understand that the board of town auditors would reduce the compensation of the collector from 2 per cent to one per cent. I am reliably informed that at the annual meeting of the board of auditors at the town clerk's office in Compton, Tuesday, March 26th, the proposition was brought up by H. A. Bernardin, one of the members of the board, but was laid on the table by the other members, Messrs. Banks, Archer and Betz. Mr. Archer is a candidate against me for collector. The question is, "Do Messrs. Banks, Archer and Betz favor reducing the collectors compensation only in the event that I, a cripple and unable to do hard manual labor, am elected. The collectors 2 per cent commission is to remain the same as now in the case of Mr. Archer's election. This strikes me as a peculiar situation and one worthy of your careful consideration. The treasurer of the highway commissioners receives 2 per cent of all moneys turned over to him by the collector amounting to some $4,000 per annum. His commission on this amount is $80 per annum. Compare this with what Messrs. Banks, Archer and Betz contemplate is a reasonable compensation for me if re-elected collector. I am willing to submit to any reasonable reduction in the event of re-election but I submit that these so called economists treat all alike. There is room for improvement both in the matter of percentages of the tax collector and treasurer of highway commissioners but it looks as though continued high taxes are to prevail if the pets of the powers that be are returned victorious on Tuesday next.

Very Respectfully, William Wigum

COMMITTEE VOTE UPHOLDS LORIMER

Special Investigating Body Decides in Senator's Favor by 5 to 3.

EDWARD HINES EXONERATED

Investigators Decide That the Previous Action by Senate on Illinoisan's Case Bars Second Proceedings.

Washington, March 29.—The right of Senator Lorimer of Illinois to his seat in the United States senate was upheld here by the special investigating committee, which decided that the senate's vote sustaining Mr. Lorimer in the last congress on substantially the same charges barred any further proceedings against him. The vote was 5 to 3.

The committee's action was sweeping. It not only adopted the "res judicata" resolution prepared by Senator Jones of Washington, but other resolutions favoring the Lorimer contentions.

The Jones resolution declared that the pending case had already been covered by the previous trial of Lorimer in the senate, and that to again place the Illinois senator on trial would not be in accord with the principle of "res judicata."

Hines is Given a Clean Bill.

Another resolution adopted exonerated Edward Hines, the Chicago lumberman, of any wrongdoing.

By a vote of 5 to 0 the committee adopted a resolution declaring that if there was any corrupt dealing in connection with Lorimer's election to the senate, Lorimer had no knowledge of it.

The committee also took action declaring that there was no conclusive evidence of a legislative "jack-pot."

On the resolution declaring that Lorimer had no knowledge of any corrupt dealings, Senators Kenyon, Kern and Lea, who opposed Lorimer, refrained from voting.

The committee vote on the Jones resolution follows:

For Lorimer—Dillingham, Gamble, Jones, Johnston and Fletcher.

Against Lorimer—Kern, Kenyon and Lea.

It is practically certain that a minority report also will be made from the committee and a notable debate is expected when the case reaches the floor of the senate.

It is expected that the case will be brought up in the senate next week.

A resolution declaring in general terms that no evidence had been adduced showing corruption in connection with the Lorimer election was carried, 5 to 3.

As farmers in Canada are going broke and land prices tumbling no one will buy it. I have talked and advertised for ten years that only a bird or less of either the Dakotas was good for farming and the good part of S. D. too high to buy. The last two crops show what is best. Cavalier county had crops in 1910 that paid for the land and also in 1911. 1912 promises much better and I will still give you a chance to pay for a farm with one crop. As an investment land here will pay better interest on $100 an acre than land in Ill. at the prices it is selling at as there so much of the rent has to be paid out for taxes, improvements and insurance. Having been here over ten years I predict Hundred Dollar land here in five to seven years. The farmers here are buying it and they are making money faster than any other farmers in the world.

CHAPTER XII.

The Needle in the Haystack.

The almost-married couple sat long in mutual terror and a common paralysis of ingenuity. Marjorie, for lack of anything better to do, was absent-mindedly twisting Snoozeleums' ears, while he, that pocket abridgment of a dog, in a well meaning effort to divert her from her evident grief, made a great pretense of ferocity, growling and threatening to bite her fingers off. The new ring attracted his special jealousy. He was growing discouraged at the ill-success of his impersonation of a wolf, and dejected at being so crassly ignored, when he suddenly became, in his turn, a center of interest.

Marjorie was awakened from her trance of inanition by the porter's voice. His plantation voice was ordinarily as thick and sweet as his own New Orleans sorghum, but now it had a bitterness that curdled the blood: "Scuse me, but how did you-all git that theah dog in this heah cah?"

"Snoozeleums is always with me," said Marjorie briskly, as if that settled it, and turned for confirmation to the dog himself, "aren't you, Snoozeleums?"

"Well," the porter drawled, trying to be gracious with his great power, "the rules don't 'low no live stock on the sleepin' cars, 'ceptin' humans."

Marjorie rewarded his condescension with a blunt: "Snoozeleums is more human than you are."

"I p'sume he is," the porter admitted, "but he can't make up berths. Anyway, the rules says dogs goes with the baggage."

Marjorie swept rules aside with a defiant: "I don't care. I won't be separated from my Snoozeleums."

She looked to Mallory for support, but he was too sorely troubled with greater anxieties to be capable of any action.

The porter tried persuasion: "You betta lemme take him, the conducta is wuss'n what I am. He 'thowed a couple of dogs out the window trip befo' last."

"The brute!"

"Oh, yassum, he is a regulah brute. He just loves to hear 'm splosh when they light."

Noting the shiver that shook the girl, the porter offered a bit of consolation:

"Better lemme have the pore little thing up in the baggage cah. He'll be in charge of a lovely baggage-smasher."

"Are you sure he's a nice man?"

"Oh, yassum, he's death on trunks, but he's a natural born angel to dogs."

"Well, if I must, I must," she sobbed. "Poor little Snoozeleums! Can he come back and see me tomorrow?" Marjorie's tears were splashing on the puzzled dog, who nestled close, with a foreboding of disaster.

"I reckon p'haps you'd better visit him."

"Poor dear little Snoozeleums—good night, my little darling. Poor little child—it's the first night he's slept all by his 'little lonesome, and—"

The porter was growing desperate. He clapped his hands together impatiently and urged: "I think I hear that conducta comin'."

The ruse succeeded. Marjorie fairly forced the dog on him. "Quick—hide him—hurry!" she gasped, and sank on the seat completely crushed. "I'll be so lonesome without Snoozeleums."

Mallory felt called upon to remind her of his presence. "I—I'm here, Marjorie." She looked at him just once—at him, the source of all her troubles—buried her head in her arms, and resumed her grief. Mallory stared at her helplessly, then rose and bent over to whisper:

"I'm going to look through the train."

"Oh, don't leave me," she pleaded, clinging to him with a dependence that restored his respect.

"I must find a clergyman," he whispered. "I'll be back the minute I find one, and I'll bring him with me."

The porter thought he wanted the dog back, and quickened his pace till he reached the corridor, where Mallory overtook him and asked, in an effort at casual indifference, if he had seen anything of a clergyman on board.

"Ain't seen nothin' that even looks like one," said the porter. Then he hastened ahead to the baggage car with the squirming Snoozeleums, while Mallory followed slowly, going from seat to seat and car to car, subjecting all the males to an inspection that rendered some of them indignant, others of them uneasy.

If dear old Doctor Temple could only have known what Mallory was hunting, he would have snatched off the mask, and thrown aside the secular scarf tie at all costs. But poor Mallory, unable to recognize a clergyman so dyed-in-the-wool as Doctor Temple, sitting in the very next seat—how could he be expected to pick out another in the long and crowded train?

All clergymen look alike when they are in convention assembled, but sprinkled through a crowd they are not so easily distinguished.

In the sleeping car bound for Portland, Mallory picked one man as a clergyman. He had a lean, ascetic face, solemn eyes, and he was talking to his seat-mate in an oratorical manner. Mallory bent down and tapped the man's shoulder.

The effect was surprising. The man jumped as if he were stabbed, and turned a pale, frightened face on Mallory, who murmured:

"Excuse me, do you happen to be a clergyman?"

A look of relief stole over the man's features, followed closely by a scowl of wounded vanity.

"No, damn you, I don't happen to be a parson. I have chosen to be—well, if you had watched the billboards in Chicago during our run, you would not need to ask who I am!"

Mallory mumbled an apology and hurried on, just overhearing his victim's sigh:

"Such is fame!"

He saw two or three other clerical persons in that car, but feared to touch their shoulders. One man in the last seat held him specially, and he hid in the turn of the corridor, in the hope of eavesdropping some clue.

This man was bent and scholastic of appearance, and wore heavy spectacles and a heavy beard, which Mallory took for a guaranty that he was not another actor. And he was reading what appeared to be printer's proofs. Mallory felt certain that they were a volume of sermons. He lingered timorously in the environs for some time before the man spoke at all to the dreary-looking woman at his side. Then the stranger spoke.

And this is what he said and read:

"I fancy this will make the bigots sit up and take notice, mother: 'if there ever was a person named Moses, it is certain, from the writings ascribed to him, that he disbelieved the Egyptian theory of a life after death, and combated it as a heathenish superstition. The Judaic idea of a future existence was undoubtedly acquired from the Assyrians, during the captivity.'"

He doubtless read much more, but Mallory fled to the next car. There he found a man in a frock coat talking solemnly to another of equal solemnity. The seat next them was unoccupied, and Mallory dropped into it, perking his ears backward for news.

"Was you ever in Moline?" one voice asked.

"Was I?" the other muttered. "Wasn't I run out of there by one of my audiences, I was givin' hypnotic demonstrations, and I had a run-in with one of my 'borses, and he done me dirt. Right in the midst of one of his cataleptic trances, he got down from the chairs where I had stretched him out and hollered: 'He's a bum faker, gents, and owes me two weeks' pay.' Thank Gawd, there was a back door open on a dark alley leadin' to the switch yard. I caught a caboose just as a freight train was pullin' out."

Mallory could hardly get strength to rise and continue his search. On his way forward he met the conductor, crossing a vestibule between cars. A happy thought occurred to Mallory. He said:

"Excuse me, but have you any preachers on board?"

"None so far."

"Are you sure?"

"Positive."

Mallory felt called upon to remind her of his presence. "I—I'm here, Marjorie." She looked at him just once—at him, the source of all her troubles—buried her head in her arms, and resumed her grief. Mallory stared at her helplessly, then rose

"How can you tell?"

"Well, if a grown man offers me a half-fare ticket, I guess that's a pretty good sign, ain't it?"

Mallory guessed that it was, and turned back, hopeless and helpless.

WEST BROOKLYN NEWS

West Brooklyn, Ill., Mar 27. '12
Editor West Brooklyn News:
West Brooklyn, Illinois.
Dear Sir:

I ask space in your valuable paper to thus enable me to set before the voters of Brooklyn township a few facts concerning the attitude of some of your officials in regard to conducting the business of the township along economical lines. While many of you tax payers have complained about the excessive high taxes which have prevailed during recent years, none I hope are so ignorant as to charge me with being in any way responsible for high taxes. I have endeavored to collect the taxes as levied against you by your supervisor and other taxing bodies and while your township tax as well as your road and bridge taxes have been the highest in recent years in the history of Brooklyn township, it has been the means of making the collector's commission somewhat larger than in former years. Some time ago, your supervisor, John W. Banks, while in his office advised me that the board of town auditors and with the power and authority vested in them by law, had decided to reduce the compensation received by the tax collector and place the same on a salary basis. The law in this case provides that the board of town auditors shall fix the compensation at any per cent not exceeding two per cent of the amount collected I was given to understand that the board of town auditors would reduce the compensation of the collector from 2 per cent to one per cent. I am reliably informed that at the annual meeting of the board of auditors at the town clerk's office in Compton, Tuesday, March 26th, the proposition was brought up by H. A. Bernardin, one of the members of the board, but was laid on the table by the other members, Messrs. Banks, Archer and Betz. Mr. Archer is a candidate against me for collector. The question is, "Do Messrs. Banks, Archer and Betz favor reducing the collector's compensation only in the event that I, a cripple and unable to do hard manual labor, am elected. The collectors 2 per cent commission is to remain the same as now in the case of Mr. Archer's election. This strikes me as a peculiar situation and one worthy of your careful consideration. The treasurer of the highway commissioners receives 2 per cent of all moneys turned over to him by the collector amounting to some $4,000 per annum. His commission on this amount is $80 per annum. Compare this with what Messrs. Banks, Archer and Betz contemplate is a reasonable compensation for me if re-elected collector. I am willing to submit to any reasonable reduction in the event of re-election but I submit that these so called economists treat all alike. There is room for improvement both in the matter of percentages of the tax collector and treasurer of highway commissioners but it looks as though continued high taxes are to prevail if the pet of the powers that be are returned victorious on Tuesday next.

Very Respectfully, William Wigum

COMMITTEE VOTE UPHOLDS LORIMER

Special Investigating Body Decides in Senator's Favor by 5 to 3.

EDWARD HINES EXONERATED

Investigators Decide That the Previous Action by Senate on Illinoisan's Case Bars Second Proceedings.

Washington, March 29.—The right of Senator Lorimer of Illinois to his seat in the United States senate was upheld here by the special investigating committee, which decided that the senate's vote sustaining Mr. Lorimer in the last congress on substantially the same charges barred any further proceedings against him. The vote was 5 to 3.

The committee's action was sweeping. It not only adopted the "res judicata" resolution prepared by Senator Jones of Washington, but other resolutions favoring the Lorimer contention.

The Jones resolution declared that the pending case had already been covered by the previous trial of Lorimer in the senate, and that to again place the Illinois senator on trial would not be in accord with the principle of "res judicata."

Hines is Given a Clean Bill.
Another resolution adopted exonerated Edward Hines, the Chicago lumberman, of any wrongdoing.

By a vote of 5 to 0 the committee adopted a resolution declaring that if there was any corrupt dealing in connection with Lorimer's election to the senate, Lorimer had no knowledge of it.

The committee also took action declaring that there was no conclusive evidence of a legislative "jack-pot."

On the resolution declaring that Lorimer had no knowledge of any corrupt dealings, Senators Kenyon, Kern and Lea, who opposed Lorimer, refrained from voting.

The committee vote on the Jones resolution follows:

For Lorimer—Dillingham, Gamble, Jones, Johnston and Fletcher.

Against Lorimer—Kern, Kenyon and Lea.

It is practically certain that a minority report also will be made from the committee and a notable debate is expected when the case reaches the floor of the senate.

It is expected that the case will be brought up in the senate next week.

A resolution, declaring in general terms that no evidence had been adduced showing corruption in connection with the Lorimer election was carried, 5 to 3.

MAKE THIS TEST
HOW TO TELL IF YOUR HAIR IS DISEASED.

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not.
98 per cent of the people need a hair tonic.

Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken it proves that the hair is diseased, and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full the hair is healthy.

We want everyone whose hair requires treatment to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. It is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, to stimulate the hair roots, tighten the hair already in the head,
grow hair and prevent baldness.

It is because of what Rexall "93"
Hair Tonic has done and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it on our risk. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Sold only at our store
—The Rexall Store. C. M. Campbell
& Son, 135 First St.

Public Sales
Saturday, March 30, stock reducing sale of Harry A. Hoffman, hardware and implement house, Dixon.

A GREAT RECORD

THERE CAN BE NO DOUBT ABOUT THE RESULTS IN DIXON

Results tell the tale.
All doubt is removed.
The testimony of a Dixon citizen
Can be easily investigated.
What better proof can be had?
Mrs. W. H. Randall, 423 College avenue, Dixon, Ill., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in our home with the best of results and I feel that I cannot praise them too highly. One member of the family suffered for some time from backache and severe pains across the kidneys and found great difficulty in stooping. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Leake Bros. & Co.'s Drug Store, brought prompt relief, removing all symptoms of kidney complaint." (Statement given April 14, 1909.)

A Lasting Effect.
On January 11, 1910, Mrs. Randall said: "Doan's Kidney Pills made a permanent cure in the case of a member of our family. I still have great confidence in this remedy and willingly permit the further publication of my former statement in its favor."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milbur, Co., Buffalo,
New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name — Doan's — and take no other.
